Director's view

Dr. Geeta Mishra
Founder

"If you don't jump, you'll never fly."

What I mean is that if we never take chances, we won't know what we are able to gain and we won't benefit from what we are able to do. Be smart, but be decisive. Don't be risky, but take risks.

Dr. B.N. Mishra
Director

We are really very happy to learn that we are going to prepare qualified and trained nurses through our R.B. Memorial School of Nursing by starting R.A.N.M. & G.N.M. Diploma course.

Director

Chairman's view

" Those who have changed the universe have never done it by changing officials, but always by inspiring the people."

Dr. Sanjeev Mishra

Someone says- If you want to measure the depth of the sea, you have to go deeper & deeper. Nursing is an art- if you want to be called as Nursing – Personnel, firstly measure its depth & its need to be a good human being i.e. sensitive humanity. We are so lucky that God has given us a golden opportunity for this great job.

Our mission is to serve the Humanity. "The Mankind" irrespective of all the caste and creed. As every man is the creation of God, the "AlMighty", who has made this beautiful world, every person has full right to live happily in this world of God, & our motto should be releasing them from pain & suffering by providing dedicated & professionally qualified Nurses & supporting staff.

My heart is filled with gratitude towards those who are as a Nursing Personnel & I want to give you all- invitation to join this humble and noble profession.

Principal

Introduction/About Us

The pioneer institution of nursing is located at middle of the twin city of Darbhanga and Laheriasarai since 2007 and is progressing impressively with full strength of students in each batch. In very short span of time, R.B.Memorial Group has come up with flying colours and become a well known destination in the field of treatment and nursing care. The most preferred Nursing Institution is approved by Indian Nursing Council and Government of Bihar as well. In order to meet the demand of the Trained Graduate Nurses in India & abroad, The trust took up the challenge by establishing R.B.Memorial School of Nursing.

Apart from getting clinical training at parent hospital(R.B.Memorial Hospital), the nursing students are getting practical experience at Darbhanga Medical College& Hospital and many others renowned private nursing homes of this town. The approach to education at R.B.Memorial School of Nursing with its emphasis on wholesome development of its students ensures that one has a head start over your peers when it comes to success. In today's world where globalization has penetrated into every aspect of our lives, education plays a major role in the advancement of one's social life especially when competition is the norm of the day. It is to equip the young to meet this challenging environment that R.B.Memorial School of Nursing was founded, with special focus on the wholesome development of the individual. We are very confident with the facilities provided at our institution like, excellent lab setup & the eminent faculties will definitely drive your career in the upward direction.

Mission

The mission of the R.B.Memorial School of Nursing is to provide knowledge and skills to the students regarding social & community service, for the continuous development of an individual as a trained nurse & as a good citizen, capable of functioning effectively in the hospital as well as community. Recent emphasis of nursing on promotion of health , prevention of illness ,restoration of health as well as advances in caring for the ill ,have opened various new areas of employment and have created added responsibilities for practicing nurses.

Philosophy

The philosophy is based on the mission of the Trust. The Trust of College believes in accelerated course of nursing we have to prepare nurse's for first level position in the hospital & in the community by imparting the knowledge of basic principles of the techniques and methods used in nursing and making the students understand the intricacies of nursing care.

Scope of Nursing

National Professional Organizations bear the responsibility for defining nursing & nurses' roles that are consistent with accepted international definitions articulated by the International Council of Nurses, & relevant to their nation's health care needs. While nurses, through professional, labour relations & regulatory bodies bear primary responsibility for defining, monitoring & periodically evaluating roles & scope of practice, the views of others in the society should be sought & considered in defining scope of practice.

The scope of practice is not limited to specific tasks, functions & responsibilities but includes direct care giving & evaluation of its impact, advocating for patients & for health, supervising & delegating to others, leading, managing, teaching, undertaking research & developing health policy for healthcare systems. Furthermore as the scope of practice is dynamic & responsive to health needs, development of knowledge, & technological advances, periodic review is required to ensure that it continues to be consistent with current health needs & supports improved health outcomes.

The following are ideal qualities for pursuing a career in Nursing:

ACADEMICABILITY : Nursing education makes intellectual demands on the student.

RESPONSIBILITY : When you earn the privilege of using the title “registered nurse”, you all assume legal & ethical accountability for your actions. Nurses must use good judgment, & be loyal to patients & to the profession.

ACCEPTANCE & CARING : Nurses must respect the rights of all people regardless of age, race, social status, sexual orientation, and religious beliefs. Nurses demonstrate unbiased compassion for all.

EAGERNESS TO LEARN : Nurses are motivated to keep up with trends & research in the profession & to value life-long learning.

CONFIDENCE : Nurses must learn to handle catastrophe, crisis & everyday challenges, in a confident, efficient & caring way.

Goal

The overall goal is to prepare qualified professional nurses in order to meet the demand of nurses at local, state, national & international levels while assuming responsibility in promoting. Preventing & curative care of the people.

Aims and Objectives

The major aim in Nursing course programme is to prepare the nurses to assume a responsibility in preventive, promotive & curative care of the peoples. They are prepared to assume first level position on all area of health & are expected to participate in teaching & managerial functions as well.

The specific objectives are as follows:

1. To meet the acute shortage of qualified Nursing personnel in the country in general.
2. To promote & strengthen the Nursing skills for better competence in the field of Nursing.
3. To produce Nurse as administrator & educator in the Hospital & in the Community for better implementation for National Health Programmes.
